JAPANESE GARDEN

UCLA Veterans Resource Center

RESTORATION AT A GLANCE

Volunteers throughout the community came together to help the restoration of the West LA VA's Japanese Garden on Friday, February 9th. A total of 25 volunteers from groups such as the UCLA Transfer Center, the Kappa Sigma Fraternity the UCLA Volunteer Center, graduate students and even local VA campus veterans came to participate in the event which started at 7:30am Friday morning and concluded with a catered Jersey Mike’s lunch around 1:00pm.

HORTICULTURAL THERAPY

This event was one of two scheduled events hosted by the UCLA Veterans Resource Center in hopes to create an all-inclusive environment for veteran residents. Much like the Veterans Garden located behind the Jackie Robinson Stadium, the purpose of restoring the Japanese Garden is to provide therapy for recovering veterans. Volunteers focused on providing cleanup to ensure the garden would be ready for the upcoming 2018 Shakespeare Festival held annually during the summer.
